Orlandus 2017 - Summer School for Choir & Organ

Hone your musicianship skills in a creative and collaborative setting under the guidance of one of Europe's foremost music directors, Dr Ite O'Donovan.

Choral singing at its very best – breaking down the individual musical elements and bringing together a performance in glorious harmony with optimum results for all; with one-on-one advice and support in developing sight-singing ability.

Taking care of your voice - vocal warm-ups daily with internationally renowned singer, Dr Imelda Drumm. Individual singing lessons can also be arranged.

This is a unique and wonderful opportunity for enthusiastic and talented music-lovers.

Limited places available to those who show a genuine interest in learning and developing choral skills.

Introduction to the Pipe Organ with Dr Paul McKeever.

As part of the Summer School all participants will get an opportunity to explore and interact with the unique sounds of the organ. They will also receive a basic explanation of the workings of the instrument.

To compliment this, there will be a demonstration of different styles of music played on the organ. A sample work by J. S. Bach will be chosen as a study piece for analysis and group discussion.

Lessons on the organ are available as part of the summer school. These are offered to participants who already show some proficiency at the keyboard.
